DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed 1/21/05 has been entered. Claims 9 and 10 have been canceled.

New claims 11 and 12 have been added. Claims 11 and 12 are pending in the application.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. Claims 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hein, III et al (USPN 5,542,529) alone or in view of Whyzmuzis et al (USPN 5,523,335) or Murphy (USPN 4,483,712) or Miyamoto et al (USPN 5,656,701.) Hein et al teach a high barrier packaging material comprising a core of aluminum metallized polyethylene terephthalate, an ink layer on the metallized and/or unmetallized side of the PET core, and outer transparent heat seal layers which are preferably polyesters such as PET, wherein the ink layer may be formed on both sides of the metallized PET core, the entire surface of which may be covered by transparent or opaque (i.e. “light protecting”) inks of various colors (Abstract; Col. 5, lines 1-7; Col. 7, line 19- Col. 8, line 19; Col. 8, lines 30-47.) Hence, Hein et al teach the following packaging structure: transparent PET heat seal/opaque ink/metallized PET/opaque ink/transparent PET heat seal.

Though Hein et al teach that a yellow ink layer can be printed on the entire surface of the metallized PET core or other colors may be utilized with various inks listed in the examples, Hein et al do not specifically teach the use of white ink layers over the entire surface. However considering Hein et al teach that various colored opaque inks may be utilized, one skilled in the art at the time of the invention would have been motivated to utilize white ink layers, an obvious species of colored opaque ink, in the invention taught by Hein et al. Further, though Hein et al do not specifically teach that the ink compositions are “two-component” adhesives of white color as instantly claimed, the Examiner takes the position that a white opaque ink layer would read upon the instantly claimed “two-component adhesive of white color” considering the ink layer would be formulated from a binder material (first component) and a pigment (second component), in this case, a white pigment. Alternatively, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to utilize any conventional laminating ink composition wherein two-part or two-component laminating inks are known to provide excellent adhesion and printing on plastic films such as PET films as taught by Whyzmuzis et al or Murphy or Miyamoto et al, wherein the two-component laminating adhesives may comprise pigments of various colors including white pigments.

Response to Arguments.

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11 and 12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
